

Clark Building In Park Row Reported Sold

Structure at Ann Street
Corner Said to Have Been Disposed Of by the Pulitzer Estate

The Clark Building at the northeast corner of Park Row and Ann Street is reported to have been taken over by Harry Aronson, who last year purchased the Potter Building on Park Row. He has formed a corporation known as One Park Row. The Clark Building was the property of the Joseph Pulitzer estate. It stands on a triangular plot fronting 40.9 feet on Park Row and 62.7 feet on Ann Street, with a northern line of 52.3 feet.

Hotel Fenton in New Hands
The Hotel Fenton, a six-story structure at 35 and 37 East Twenty-second Street, 50x113, has been bought by Daniel H. Jackson, from the Fidelity Trust Company of Newark, N. J., as trustee of the estate of Anna T. E. Fenton. It has seven suites on a floor and two rooms and bath and is at present conducted by Rood's Hotel Operating Company, which has been the tenant for a great many years. The sale carries immediate possession of the entire building. E. H. Ludlow & Co. were the brokers.

Tenant Buys Apartment In Upper Madison Ave.

Auto Companies Merged

Announcement was made yesterday of the merging of the Locomobile and the Mercer Motor Car companies, with combined net assets exceeding $11,000,000. As the Mercer Motor Car Company had already absorbed the Simplex Automobile Company, the latter automatically becomes a part of the new combination, at the same time as does the Mercer.

The names of Locomobile, Mercer and Simplex cars will be retained for the different types of passenger transportation units that will now be manufactured by the various factories of the new company.

Foreign Demand for U. S. Autos
Foreign demand for American-made automobiles during the fiscal year 1920 was nine times greater than the total value of such exports before the war.

"The future market for cars abroad," says the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, "will continue to be excellent, if gauged by the growing world-wide demand for more and better roads."

The efforts of innumerable individuals, clubs and associations are reflected in increased appropriations by governments for road building in nearly every country.

"In a bulletin reviewing the automobile situation throughout the world, the Guaranty Trust Company refers to the utter lack of a single factor to discourage the American automobile export, for it is willing to work steadily, patiently and intelligently for the long pull."

U. S. Exhibits at European Fairs

PARIS, Oct. 6.—Recommendation that all business interests of the United States combine for the purpose of jointly exhibiting at great European fairs will be made immediately to the Department of Commerce by Dr. W. C. Hastings, commercial attaché at the American Embassy here.

Dr. Hastings, who has just returned from an official visit to the war zone, is enthusiastic over the opportunity presented American business men at these fairs.

Geddes Urges Co-operation In World Trade

Declares Development of Commerce Requires U. S. and Britain to "Lay Their Cards Upon the Table"

Frankness Is Essential

Denies Reports That England Has Resold to Germany a Number of Ships

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—Adequate world trade development by Great Britain and the United States requires that both nations lay their cards on the table, Sir Auckland Geddes, British Ambassador, declared to-night at a dinner given by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States to representatives of the British Chamber of Commerce, here as guests of the American organization.

The ambassador insisted that there was greater desire in Great Britain for close business cooperation with America than has been indicated by many American writers. He had learned from these writers, he said, "how diametrically the British, more especially the English, are, and with what Machiavellian duplicity the British push their trade." Economic waste results when each nation regards the other as a commercial and financial activities with suspicion, he said, adding:

"I believe that it is imperative that each country should play the great game of world trade, so important to us both, with its cards upon the table in so far as trade is supported and developed by national, that is, political action."

"Secrecy breeds suspicion, the mother of hostility. I believe that full reciprocity in frankness is essential if we are to avoid difficulties. I believe most strongly that, in spite of possible limitations of profit, cooperation between our nations will pay us both best in the long run."

Denies Sales to Germany
The Ambassador denied published reports that the British government had resold to the German government a number of German ships with the object of hindering the development of the American mercantile marine.

"Utter nonsense," he said, adding: "The British Parliament, under the leadership of the government, has made it illegal for a period of years to sell any ship in British hands to Germany or to Germany."

Reverting to his theme of mutual understanding, the Ambassador said: "If the English-speaking peoples work together, no half-baked communists or militarist adventures will long continue to disturb the resolute world."

Inseparable, Says Alexander
Great Britain and the United States were pictured as inseparable companions by Joshua W. Alexander, Secretary of Commerce, in addressing the delegation.

"The United Kingdom," Secretary

Alexander said, "is America's best customer. In turn, America purchases enormous quantities of goods from Great Britain. We purchased $43,414,000 worth during August from the United Kingdom alone. Another $50,503,000 worth of merchandise was imported from Canada during the same month. During the eight months ending with August, 1920, our bill from the United Kingdom for goods purchased amounted to $398,418,000. From your own standpoint this sum should compare very favorably with $122,877,000, the value of our imports from the United Kingdom during the eight months ended with August, 1919.

"Since the foundation of this republic our trade relations with the British Isles have been more important than our dealings with any other country."

"I want to say just a word or two about our newly created merchant marine. The United States does not contemplate any attempt to drive other nations out of the shipping business. On the other hand, I am only stating what is fair when I say it is the policy of this country to own and operate a fair share of the world's shipping."

Silk Mill Strikers Seek Part Control of Plant

President of Jersey Company
Says Operatives Want to Pass
on Personnel Changes

The strike of 250 operatives of the J. A. M. Jersey Company silk mill, at North Bergen, N. J., now in its fifth month, aims to give employees a part control of the plant, according to a statement issued yesterday by J. A. M. Jersey, president of the company.

Migel admits that no written demands have been presented, but he says that up to the call of the strike the demands for higher wages and shorter hours had been met. According to Migel it was when the operatives attempted to dictate to the officials that no one could be employed or discharged without their approval that the management forced the issue that brought on the walk-out.

The strikers are members of the Amalgamated Textile Workers of America and are composed largely of Italians and Poles, with the Italians in the majority, it is said.

Migel declares that none of the so-called radicals among the strikers will be taken back. American girls have supplanted the foreign workers, he said, and 125 looms are in operation.

$1,000,000 for C. R. I. & P.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—The Interstate Commerce Commission to-day authorized the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railway Company to issue general mortgage gold bonds to the amount of $1,000,000 as of January 1, 1921, to be pledged as security for first and refunding mortgage gold bonds to the amount of $1,000,000 as of April 1, 1921, payable April 1, 1934.

Forbes Urges Reduction Of Wholesale Prices

An immediate reduction in wholesale prices to a basis of prices expected to rule next spring, was urged upon dress manufacturers yesterday by R. C. Forbes, editor of Forbes Magazine, at the monthly luncheon of the Associated Dress Industries of America at the Hotel McAlpin. Mr. Forbes asserted that prices were on the downward trend, but ultimate consumers were on strike because reductions so far had failed to impress them.
